ADDITIONAL INFORMATION:

Miranda Gooch fell accidentally into casting by popular demand. Having grown up in one theatrical family, and married into another, she is a vast pool of info and resources. She found herself approached by Casting Directors and Directors and began trouble-shooting for other people.

For Nina Gold she has hunted down people for Mike Leigh, Steve Barron and Peter Hewitt. She has combed the country for children for Jina Jay who cast Billy Elliott and Gypsy Woman. She has worked on projects for Sue Jones and for Sue Needleman. She has also worked on squillions of commercials.

Miranda recently went solo and her projects included the cinema trailer for the Raindance Film Festival, made by Infinity. Theatre includes The Devils Interval by Neville Farmer Dir Dee Cannon. Her commercials include work for Aardman (Dairylea Triangles) Her first feature film "Tooth," (Prod Susie Brookes-Smith of Archangel Filmworks and Redbus (Bend It Like Beckham, Spider) Dir Ed Nammour) had a $6millionUS budget but she managed to attach Jim Broadbent, Steven Fry, Harry Enfield, Richard E. Grant, Vinnie Jones, Sally Phillips, Tim Dutton, Anna Wing, Phyllida Law and Jerry Hall! She is being pitched from all sides at the moment and is working on Cowboys and Indians for Producer Ron Purdie, Dir Jonathan Glendening. Miranda has been invited to look at Working Title TV's Three Men In A Boat, Alabi's Inspector Banks, Gary Boulton Browns recent adaptation of Heni James "Turn of the Screw" and Wasp for Cowboy. Having done some of the casting for Hallmarks The Blackwater Lightship" she was invited to stay on the set as kids coach.
